

What is Parchment?

Parchment.com makes it easy to search colleges, see your chances of getting in, and request, store and send transcripts when you are ready to apply.

1

Easily send transcripts from the comfort of your own home.

- 1) Go to www.parchment.com/join
- 2) Sign up to create your account with Parchment
- 3) Add your school to your Parchment account
 - Click the Get Started button
 - Add your high school
 - Complete waiver information
 - Complete the Transcript Authorization Form by either entering the Parchment Registration Code or electronically signing the form
 - Receive confirmation that your school has been added and begin placing transcript requests by selecting the 'Deliver' tab
- 4) Request delivery of your transcript to any destination worldwide
 - Select the destinations, such as Academic Destinations, the NCAA, The Common Application, yourself or any other destination
 - Review destinations
 - Provide debit/credit card payment if there are fees associated with the request
 - Receive a confirmation with the Tracking ID and next steps for your transcript request

Search for your school

screening City State United States Search

High School	City, State	Country
<input type="checkbox"/> Screening Eagle High School	Eagle Rock, IN	US

Save & Continue Can't find your school?

Colleges & Universities

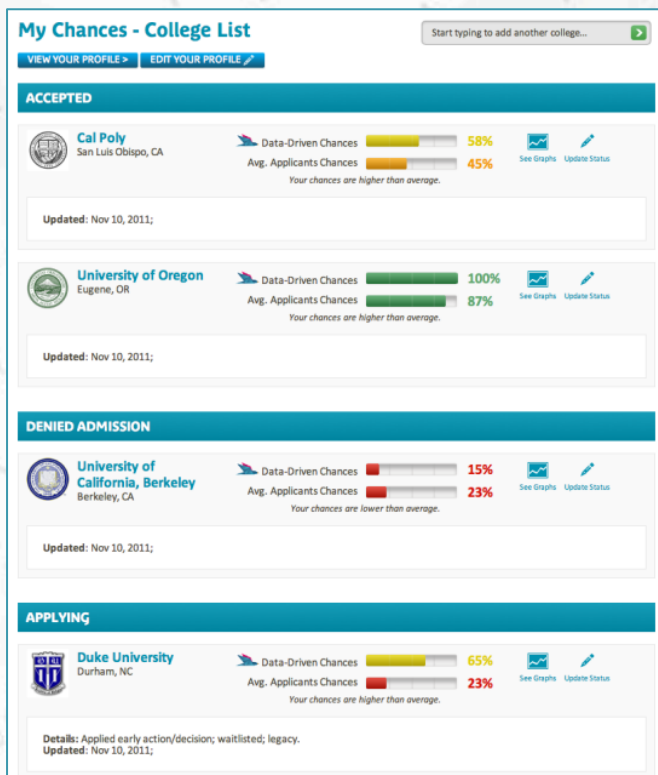

Transcript Fee
The transcript fee is $3.00. Depending on the delivery method you select, there may be a delivery handling charge. Find the college or university you want to send your transcript to by entering all or part of the name. You can filter the results by using the optional institution type field, state or country fields.

Included Institutions:
 Show only undergraduate admissions
 Show other institutions (including scholarship funds)

Country: United States State/Province: Select State Search

Institution Name	City, State Country	Organization Type
<input type="checkbox"/> Docufile Institute of Technology	Camarillo, CA US	Private University/4 Year College

Save & Continue Save & Add Another

2

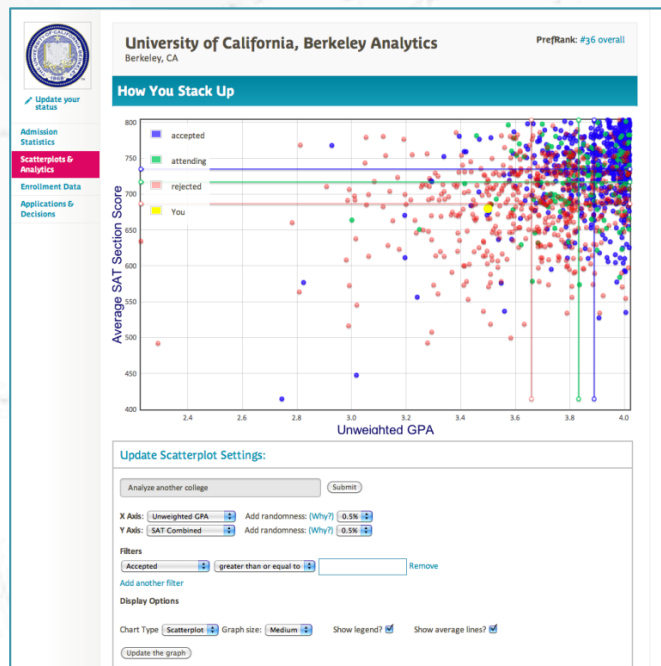

Get organized for applying to college.

- Create your profile to store your college application information in one place, such as: Unweighted GPA, weighted GPA, SAT scores, SAT II scores, ACT scores, AP classes and scores, extracurriculars, awards and more.
- Search for colleges and build your college list
- Keep track of your college application decisions
- Discover new colleges by seeing where students like you apply with the Parchment College Recommendation Engine™
- Ask for help and advice in the Discussion Boards

3

See how you stack up.

- Complete your profile and add colleges to your list to get your data-driven Parchment predictions.
- How are these predictions created? Parchment builds statistical models from the results of students who have voluntarily added their admissions data in the past.
- On each college's page, click the "Scatterplots & Analytics" link to see a how you stack up against admitted and denied students at that college. Tip: Mouse over the dots to see actual student profiles.
- See each school's prediction accuracy by visiting the Chance Details page. In general, colleges with more data have better models.
- Predictions are probabilities. If you are given a 10% chance and you applied to a college 100 times, you should be accepted 10 of those times, if the college's model were accurate.

If you want to attend a college, you should ALWAYS apply. Students get in to colleges despite 0% chances. The predictions are only meant to be a guide to help you build your list.

The only way to guarantee you will not get into a college is to not apply.